POSSIBLY REOPEN THE TRIGG PLANT

Prominent Capitalists Expected Here to Look Over the Grounds To-day.

Mr. W. O. Duntley, president of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company, and Mr. Wallace, president of the American Shipbuilding Company, of New York,

Mr. Wallace, president of the American Shipbuilding Company, of New York, were expected in the city last night, but did not arrive.

They will probably come to-day, and the object of their visit is said to be the probable purchase for the American Shipbuilding Corporation of the old Trigg plant, which will be reopened and operated in the event of the purchase.

A gentleman connected with the plant said last night:

"Regarding is article in an afternoon paper yerlay, headed 'Shippards to Result of the year of the purchase, and in the work, we would say that being patriotic and having a most kindly feeling for Richmond and Virginia in seneral we would welcome a resimption of active work at the Trigg Shipbilling plant and would most gladly sacrifice thirty per cent. of the cost of the equipment at point of manufacture in order to promote a scheme that would start in the plant. On account of the strict terms which were imposed upon us in securing title to this property, we have felt the necessity of disposing of a part of the equipment which has been moved away; but we will gladly credit such sales to actual purchasers in order to facilitate the organization of a shipbilding company, which we think would be of immense advantage to Virginia and especially Richmond. We assure you, that it is not to our liking to dismantie a modern plant as well-equipped as the William r. 1718 Company. The equipment is the best thus can be secured, and therefore is readily disposed of.

"If there are interesting purchasers of this plant in town, they sheald try to get hold of the owners at once."

A VIGOROUS ATTACK ON CAPT. OBERLIN M. CARTER

CHICAGO, September 27.—Attorneys for the Federal government to-day made at vigorous attack on the defense of former Captain Oberlin M. Carter, charged with defrauding the government out of $2,500,000. Circumstantial evidence was introduced to show that on several occasions when large payments were made to Gaynor and Greene, the government contractors, Carter deposited money alleged to be his shara of the division of the profits, to his credit on a New York bank. The defendant and his attorney objected to the introduction of this documentary evidence, consisting of bank checks and deposit slips, the objection being based on the ground that there was no record in the case, that Carter ever received money from the contractors, contractors.

What all these witnesses testified to no one outside of the jury really knows, but good guessers are of the opinion that they told nothing upon which the grand jury can find an indictment.

No More Witnesses.

When the jury entered the court-room and asked to be dismissed until 11 o'clock to-day the foreman did not ask for the summoning of any new witnesses, and the natural supposition is that they are summoning of any new witnesses, and the natural supposition is that they are about through.

The star witness, if there was a star witness yesterday, was Culberson, who has been lingering in jail for some time. The jury expressed a desire for an interview with Culberson, and a deputy sergeant hustled off to the jail to fotch him to book. Cuberson took the oath to tell the truth and was marched off to the grand jury room.

The Commonwealth's attorney said to a Times-Dispatch man last night. "I have not been asked to prepare any indictments for the signature of the foreman of the grand jury."

"Do you understand that to mean that there will be no indictments?" was asked. "You can draw your own conclusions," replied the attorney.

The probability is that the jury will make its final report this morning, and a very strong probability is that it will not show any new indictments, and thus will end the investigation of alleged elections fraud in the late city primary election.
